Greetings,

I have read through the microsoft settlement and find it rather unsatisfactory. The completely lack of real punishment is appalling. Microsoft has clearly mislead and cheated the public, and bullied their competitors to the point of financial failure. Yet, the "punishment" seems little more than being told to not do it anymore. Incredibly, even the enforcement methods allowed by the settlement are paltry and weak.

I strongly urge you to review and reject the settlement as it now stands.

Thank you,
Jeff Beene
